JOHN JAMES DYER, First Judge Of The United States District Court For Iowa, 1847-1855. By T. S. Parvin, LL. D. , Clerk Of His Court. HE high character and the great services rendered in the work of State-building by the Pioneers and Old Settlers are being acknowledged by the people oE Iowa. The ceremonies of the Semi-Centennial of our States birth just past have conclusively demonstrated this fact and made it apparent to the public view, and we trust that in the future the State-builders who made Iowa may live in the affections of the people and in the history of the State they builded for them. The inspiration that is developed by their successors in this progressive generation in beautifying and enlarging the work of their hands has been supplied in a generous measure by those...
