Excerpt: . . . at were considering today, not only reauthorizes the research and development components of the Energy Policy Act of 1905. But it doubles the authorization funding from 2009 to 2013, hopefully countering the drop in government funding for energy research and development efforts that weve seen since the 1970s. This increase in my mind anyway, is a necessary one. All of our goals to become a more energy efficient nation and to be less dependent on unstable, foreign sources of energy rely on advances in technology advances in the know how. If were going to be the leader in energy technology investment, in R and D, is a must. The two are certainly not mutually exclusive. On another front as we get into the details of energy efficiency, alternative fuels and other specifics of energy policy, it can be easy to overlook the people power that are needed to make this work. Its an issue that we recognize that we cant neglect. Half of electric utility...
